

Morning Meeting Greetings

Time Traveler:

Students greet each other saying, "Good morrow to thee," as if they were from Shakespeare's time.

Secret Handshake:

Partners might create a handshake and say, "Good morning partner—!"

World Explorer:

This idea involves greetings in different languages. That is, children can start their morning by saying "Guten Morgen" in German or "Bonjour" in French. This can spark curiosity about the world.

Space Salutation:

A student could say, "Greetings, Earthlings, I come in peace from the planet of Knowledge!"

Poetic Praise:

Sharing a short verse, a student might say, "Roses are red, violets are blue, I'm glad to spend another day with you!"

Musical Melody:

The class chooses a short, catchy tune or song to greet each other with. Children sing or hum the melody, making eye contact and exchanging smiles with their fellows.

Fitness Five:

Leading a simple stretch, a student might say, "Let's reach for the sky and greet the day with energy!"

Gratitude Gesture:

Expressing thanks, a student might say, "Good morning fellows!" and then "I'm grateful for my friends here, who make every day brighter!"
